

HERE'S THE ELECTRIC SUGAR GANG.

LAWSON N. FULLER GIANTS OVER THEM ERE THEY SICK THEIR CALLS FOR THE NIGHT.

Mrs. Olive E. Friend, her mother, Emily Howard, her father-in-law, William E. Howard, and Orrin A. and George Halstead, the electric sugar quintette from Michigan, arrived at Police Headquarters yesterday in the custody of Detective Sergeant Roland C. H. and McNaught. They had breakfast in Inspector Byrnes' office, and then were taken to the District Attorney's office, where they found the more or less legal and impervious, but always cheerful, Lawson N. Fuller smiling waiting to see them. They sat in the outer office, behind closed doors, while the curious persons had a chance to look them over.

"They look like hayseeds," said Mr. Fuller, "but they ain't—not for long shot. That's the New Yorkers."

Howard is a six-footer. His clothes hung loosely on him, and he was not dressed in moderation, either.

Friend is a tall, thin woman, with a small head, pulled down over his ears. Mrs. Howard is gray-haired. Mrs. Friend was dressed in a closely-fitting tailor-made suit of black and white, with a wide belt.

The attorney, who is a man of middle age, with a shock of grey hair, and a very large nose, is the most remarkable of the bunch.

Lawyer the Hummer for the prisoners and Assistant District Attorney Davis went before Recorder Abbott to him. The motion will be argued to-day. The prisoners passed the night at Police Headquarters.

A SAD WOMAN.

The Secret Cause of Most Ladies' Troubles
Explained and some Sensible Advice Given.

It is safe to say that not one woman in ten thousand lives a single week in which she does not either cry or feel like crying. The cause of this is the want of physical exercise, and all women, and particularly all women, are all women more or less miserable. This is all wrong. Women were made for happiness, not for misery. When a woman is weak she requires strength. Her body, her mind, and all her faculties and functions must be put in a healthy condition, so that she cannot secure strength. Nature is always ready to do this, but nature almost always requires assistance, and the question therefore arises, "What can we do?"

The best physicians in the medical profession have agreed that nothing so surely and easily does this as pure whiskey taken in moderation, either before meals or between meals. The effect is to gently and healthily stimulate all the faculties to vigorous action, and to give the body a general tone. This is the secret of the success of the famous Dr. Dury's Cure. Many of these ladies are the wives of physicians, and they realize that Dr. Dury's Cure is a medicine, not a drink, and that the medicine has been discovered.
